The Hook Up

1. The Navico NAIS-300's power and display connections are clearly labeled. The yellow plug accepts SimNet cables.

2. The West Marine AIS1000's connection are clearly labeled.

3. Four LED lights on the front of the AIS1000 let users know it is functioning properly. A button just above the lights switches the unit to receive-only mode.

4. Proper connection and function of the NAIS-300 is indicated by four LEDs located just above the connections.
