

INTERIOR NOTES: TOMCAT 9.7

PRO: Lots of cabinets

CON: No handrail at steps

CON: Long walk to the fridge

PRO: Force 10 two-burner stove

PRO: Plenty of counter space

CON: Crawl-in master berth

The galley (above) is located in the starboard hull while the boat's small but functional head is found in the port hull. Each hull has a 48-inch-wide double berth aft. The athwartships master berth (left), is just forward of the main saloon and separated by curtains and half-bulkhead. Access to the master berth is from either hull, or, for nimble children, from the main saloon.
